A SWINDLER.—A swindler representing himself as the agent of Armstrong, Cator & Co., one of the most reliable business houses of Baltimore, traveled through this Valley last week. His mode of doing business is as follows: He exhibits a perfume, used as a face and glove powder, called "Lasting Beauty." He makes sale of this powder and enters into a written contract of the following form:

From HORTON BROTHERS & CO.
350 Washington street,
Boston, Baltimore.

Contract, No. —. Sole manufacturers of Lasting Beauty.
This is to certify that we have this day appointed Miss — sole agent for the sale of a perfume, face and glove powder, called by name Lasting Beauty, for the town of — for the term of 12 months, from this date, and we do agree at the end of said time, to take back all of said perfume, face and glove powder, not sold, and to refund the money for the same at the rate of — per dozen less — per cent.

And we do also agree to print and furnish two hundred boxes with your business card printed on the same free of charge.

Received — dollars in full payment for — dozen of said perfume.

Signed, HORTON BROTHERS & CO.
By C. L. Bell, Agent.
Witness, A. C. & Co., Baltimore.

To this contract a blank is attached which the customer is required to sign, as he represented, for their protection. We do not know what the blank is, but it is probable that it is the negotiable note swindle and that his customers may find in a few days that their note for such an amount as he may see proper to make it, is due.

The scoundrel knew that the millinery business in this Valley is carried on almost exclusively by ladies, all of whom are well acquainted with the house of Armstrong, Cator & Co. He represented to these ladies, that merchants generally were very anxious to become agents but that Messrs. Armstrong, Cator & Co. had instructed him to give their customers the preference, and that certain well-known milliners, whom he called by name, in Harrisonburg, Edinburg, and other towns, had become agents.

It is hardly necessary to add that Armstrong, Cator & Co. do not know the scoundrel. They are now making every effort to have him arrested and punished.

He was traveling with horse and buggy.

WHY IT IS SO.—The editor of the Shenandoah Chronicle tells this story of country newspapers, as follows: "We are often asked by well meaning persons, why they have to pay higher prices for country newspapers than those printed in the cities. 'Why do you charge two dollars a year for the Chronicle, when I can get the New York Stockholder, a bigger paper, for a dollar and a half?' We will try to clear up this mystery. Suppose the Chronicle has a cash subscription list of 1,000, at $2.00, that makes $2,000. Well, now, suppose the New York Stockholder, or whatever paper you choose for a comparison, has a paying list of one hundred thousand, at $1.50, that makes $150,000. Suppose the city paper has a profit on each subscriber of about ten cents, that clears the publisher $15,000. Now suppose the Chronicle realizes that per cent, and no more, that would make the sum of $100. This latter amount would compel a country printer to live very 'thin' himself and squander nothing on his family, while his contemporaries could wax as fat as Jeshurun. You see the necessity of charging a good deal more than a city printer now, don't you? A paper the size of the Chronicle, with its circulation and price, couldn't live over night in a city."

Our advertising columns this week announce the fact that the fine residence and mill property of Mr. J. H. Baker, is in the market, and is bound to be sold, as the owner has determined on removing to Kansas. This property is a very complete and desirable one, is situated in a rich and populous section of Rockingham county, convenient to Broadway, a flourishing village, and Depot of the Valley Branch Railroad. Any person wishing a nice home and a paying investment, could not do better than to purchase this one. At all events they ought to visit and inspect it, for it is certainly very desirable in every respect.

We are pleased to meet Mr. J. Frank Templeton, the agent of the old reliable Richmond Nurseries. Mr. T. has canvassed this county for two years. The goods which he represents are well known in this county, having been thoroughly tested for a number of years. In giving orders to this house, or to Mr. Templeton, they can rest assured that they will not be deceived. Mr. T. proposes to canvass this county this season, and will be prepared to furnish every variety of trees now sold.

SHEEP KILLED.—On Monday night, last week, dogs killed one sheep at the Parish, on Tuesday night one for D. M. Crabill, near Tom's Brook, on Wednesday they killed three for Isaac Bushong, and wounded several, on Friday night, several for Noah Bauserman. Some of the sheep killed were in pens. As they were all in the same neighborhood, it is very probable that the same dogs killed all the sheep. Efforts should be made to discover and kill the dogs, before greater damage shall be done.

If parents know that convulsions, fits, etc., were caused by worms gnawing at the vitals of the child they would seek a remedy at once. Shiner's Indian Vermifuge is just the thing. Price 25 cents a bottle. For sale by J. S. Irwin & Son.

Assistant Engineer, Mr. Francis Welch, of the Baltimore Fire Department, so severely sprained his back at a recent fire that he was unable to get up after sitting down. A few applications of Keller's Roman Liniment cured him.

Valley News.

Winchester News: Winchester is to have a steam tannery, Mr. J. C. Maxwell, of Mineral county, "West" Virginia, having purchased the Sidwell property, which he will re-arrange as a steam tannery. He will begin his improvements about the 1st of June. Mr. Leathers will do the carpenter work and Messrs. Hoover & Watson the brick work.

Daniel Young, colored, who was arrested in this county some time since, charged with horse-stealing, and returned to Jefferson county, was tried at Charlestown, at the last term of the court, and sent to the penitentiary for three years.

The death of Mrs. Mary D. Williams, which occurred on Wednesday morning last, the tenth anniversary of that of her husband, is an event demanding notice outside of the column regularly devoted to such announcements. Her private virtues as developed in all the ordinary relations of life, as wife, mother, friend and active and untiring dispenser of charity, would have made her a woman of mark, and gained for her love and esteem, in any community. To this must be added the claim to wider distinction earned by her devotion to the perpetuation of the memory, and protection of the graves, of the Confederate dead. She will always be remembered, not only at the South but at the North and throughout the Union, as the originator of the beautiful practice, which has taken such hold of all hearts, of decorating annually the last resting-places of our dead soldiers. Since the first assemblage at Mt. Lebanon in June 1865, hundreds have followed in every quarter of the country and the federal government has adopted the idea and based upon it the establishment of a new holiday.

The name of Mrs. Williams should be 'freshly remembered' at every strewing of the soldiers' grave, the recurrence of the touching and cherished observance the introduction of which the country owes to her.

Mrs. Williams was 69 years of age. The funeral services took place at Christ (Episcopal) Church last Friday at 12 o'clock.

Waynesboro' Tribune: On Saturday evening last the barn belonging to Mr. Franklin Barger, near this place, was burnt to the ground. It is supposed to have been set on fire by a colored man who had been smoking in it. Three valuable colts perished in the flames, and a quantity of wheat, hay, fodder, straw, etc., was also destroyed. The barn was insured.

Manassas Gazette: Senator Paul, of Rockingham, will be at Brentsville next Monday for the purpose of addressing the people of Prince William upon the subject of the State debt.

There are about twelve hundred Conservative voters in this county, and about one-half of that number are candidates either for county or district offices at the spring election. What can the remaining half do?

Page Courier: The wheat in this county has improved wonderfully in the last few weeks. The prospect now indicates a fair crop.

Operations for corn and other crops are rather backward, owing to it having been too dry to plow.

Early gardeners busy.

Shenandoah Valley: The Baltimore trial, which was called up for the second time in the County Court of Page, last Monday, resulted, on Friday, in the acquittal of Butler, who was charged with the shooting of Burns in November last. Messrs. Walton, Riddleberger, and Parks were lawyers for the defense and Major Newman for the Commonwealth.

The case of Dannovan vs. B. & O. Railroad, which was on our Circuit Court docket has been compromised.

RELIGIOUS.—The Winchester Presbytery will meet in Woodstock, on Wednesday, April 23d. About forty ministers and delegates are expected to be present.

NEW PAVEMENTS.—The council are still directing their attention to the paving question. The contractor is about getting out curb and brick will be burned in time to meet the demand.

THIEVES.—There are some dishonest people in the neighborhood of Edinburg, as is evidenced by the fact that the meat house of Mr. John Bratin was robbed on last Thursday night.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. S. B. Dooley preached in the Methodist Church of this place, on last Sunday, to a large congregation. Mr. Dooley traveled this circuit in 1856-7. He was warmly welcomed by many of his old friends.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. John Lineweaver, jr. attended the funeral of his father on last Thursday, passed through this place, on his way home, and died on Thursday night. His death, it is supposed, was caused by disease of the heart.

Mr. D. F. Spiker has received an appointment to a position under the government. Notwithstanding this fact, he is still a candidate for Commissioner of the Revenue in district No. 1. Should he be elected to the office, he will resign his place under the general government and perform the duties of Commissioner of the Revenue to the best of his ability.

AN ENTERPRISING THIEF.—An enterprising thief stole thirty-two dampers from the shop of Mr. E. B. Tapley. He may expect to control the temperature by turning off the heat. He is evidently fast travelling to a very hot place, and he has foresight enough to make preparations for self protection.

We were pleased to meet, in town, on Court-day, Col. D. Dechart, of the Harrisonburg Spirit, and Mr. A. L. Henkel, of the New Market Valley. Both were genial and smiling but the junior of the Valley was meditating a trip to Baltimore and he was unusually serious. It may be that he contemplates some serious business.

NEAR RINKERTON, VA.

Mr. Editor:—Although we are not living in the city, or directly on the line of the railroad, still we have churches and schools and think we are entitled to some little credit among the civilized and enlightened. On yesterday (the Lord's day), we had the pleasure of attending Othobene Chapel, where we heard a very good sermon delivered by the Rev. Mr. Howe, Presiding Elder of the United Brethren church. It was a Sacramental occasion and there was quite a crowd, and a very large number of communicants. The Rev. Mr. Peter Miller, of Woodstock, held a Communion Season at Bethel church, Hamburg, on the same day, we understand, the congregation was large, the sermon as usual good, and the number of communicants large.

I think the Spirit is at work in this section, there is a Prayer Meeting weekly at Bethel, and one every Wednesday night at the Disciple church, on the land of Mr. Fenton Rinker, both are well attended and there is quite an interest manifested by the members of the various denominations of this locality. I am glad to say the prospects are flattering for the erection of a Methodist church at Hamburg, this Spring. We expect to commence it very soon, and complete it by July or August. Last, but not least, we regret very much to lose the services and good company of our highly respected and esteemed friend Geo. W. Clem, who has been engaged in teaching at Rinkerton, for near five months. He has made many friends and would gladly be supported by his many friends at any time he may see proper to locate among us. He has been running a subscription school well attended, numbering forty scholars. As he is about to leave us, and duty calls him elsewhere, we can only hope that he may be as successful wherever he goes as he has been here, and he may never know such a word as fail.

We feel sure, judging the future by the past, that Shenandoah may be proud of him, as all neighborhoods in which he has taught, have been.

Farmers nearly done ploughing for Spring crops, wheat looks well, some gardening but not much has been done. Good-bye for the present. E.

CHANGE OF OFFICE.—Dr. D. D. Carter has changed his office and residence to the house, one door north of H. Logan's residence.

THE NURSERY.—The April No. of this beautiful Magazine is on our table. It is the best children's publication in this country. Elegantly illustrated, bright and cheerful. Price $1.50 per year.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS.—The will of Wm. Tazewell Rosenberger admitted to record.

Arthur R. Rosenberger qualified as Executor of W. T. Rosenberger.

L. S. Walker appointed Deputy Clerk.

PERSONAL.—The following named attorneys were present at the Circuit Court now in session in this place: Gen. Jno. E. Roller, Harrisonburg, Gen. J. H. Williams and R. R. Barton, Esq., Winchester, Hon. Andrew Hunter, Charlesworth, W. Va., Giles Cook, Esq., and Major S. S. Turner, of Front Royal, Leonard Marbury, Esq., of Alexandria, L. Triplett, Esq., of Mt. Jackson, and Judge G. R. Calvert, of New Market.

A FRANK OF NATURE.—One day last week a cow belonging to Aaron Beechey, of Grantsville, had a call which bore the resemblance and image of a deer. The head, ears and feet were a perfect image of a deer, both in size and shape. Its mouth was so small that it was unable to suck the cow. The skin was dark and perfectly bare, other than that it closely resembled the skin of a deer. Great excitement exists in these parts over the strange phenomenon as the cow had been running in the mountain range, among the deer,
